JAMES MILLIKIN: THE MAN AND HIS DREAM

James Millikin (1827-1909)

James Millikin, founder and namesake of James Millikin University, was born in Clarkstown (now Ten-Mile), Washington County, Pennsylvania. He attended a district school where he was taught by his brother Samuel and entered Washington College in the fall of 1846.

It was at Washington College that young Millikin grew sensitive to the struggles of other young men trying to overcome poverty and inadequate frontier educations to do well in college. At the age of 20, Millikin made a vow that if he ever fulfilled his own American Dream, the motivating rags to riches story, and amassed a great fortune, he would establish an institution of high learning designed to prepare all students for any occupation of endeavor that they might choose to pursue.

It is not clear why Millikin made this particular pledge; whether it came from seeing too many promising young people denied a good education due to financial difficulties, or whether Millikin felt that many colleges and universities tended to ignore the practical skills needed for survival in the work world. Whatever the reason, this vow remained with Millikin throughout his life.

After gaining substantial wealth in livestock and real estate, Millikin moved to Decatur in 1856. Decatur was still a small town but he saw it as a community with great potential. His business interests enabled him to become one of the town's most prosperous and enterprising citizens. He was also one of the wealthiest, worth approximately $75,000. The failure of the railroad bank left Decatur in a state of financial chaos, and several people approached Millikin to suggest that he use his money to go into the banking business. In 1860, he established the private banking house of J. Millikin & Company.

Throughout his years of personal and financial prosperity, Millikin failed to forget that vow he made at Washington College. He kept the vision of an institution that stressed the practical and vocational aspects of study with a more classical education. At the turn of the 20th century, Millikin took the first steps towards fulfilling this lifelong dream.

THE DREAM FULFILLED

On May 13, 1900, Millikin took the first step towards fulfilling his dream. He made formal offers to Dr. W.J. Darby, the Secretary of the Educational Presbyterian Church and Rev. A.W. Hawkins, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to establish a university with ties to the Cumberland Presbyterian denomination. Millikin made one major stipulation with his pledge; this new university was not to be narrowly sectarian and should welcome students of any sect or creed. As part of the offer, he also agreed to donate his land holdings at Oakland Park and give $200,000, providing that the synods of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa would raise $100,000 and the city of Decatur a like amount.

January 1, 1901, saw the conditions of Millikin's generous offer met, and on June 12, 1902, the cornerstone of the Liberal Arts building was laid by the Masonic Fraternity. Millikin had an intense dislike of public notoriety and refused to appear on stage at the ceremony.

On June 4, 1903, the three buildings comprising the Liberal Arts Hall, the power house and machinery hall, all constructed at a cost of $216,000, were formally dedicated. President Theodore Roosevelt delivered the dedicatory address, saying, "We are all as Americans to be congratulated that there are among us men who so worthily apply the fortunes that they have made, in devoting a portion of them to the cause of education in this country. Mr. Millikin, I feel that as an American it is proper for me to express to you and to those like you, the obligation that good Americans feel for what you and they have done in this university and in other educational institutions throughout the land."

Classes officially began on September 15, 1903, and 300 students arrived to take the Millikin educational challenge. The same holds true today. Millikin presently enjoys an enrollment of approximately 1,600 dedicated young men and women striving for greatness in an ever-changing world.

On November 25, 1985, Millikin University was recognized for its excellence in education. In a U.S. News and World poll of 1318 four-year college and university presidents, Millikin was ranked fifth out of all small colleges in the Mid-West and Far-West regions of the United States. Founded on a dream, Millikin has exceeded beyond the dreams and expectations of its founder.

OUT WITH THE OLD . . .
IN WITH THE NEW

In keeping with the ever changing world about it, Millikin has adapted to meet these needs. As a part of the multi-million dollar New Horizon's Campaign, The Liberal Arts Building has undergone some major renovations. Layers of pink dust greeted students in the fall of 1985 as a tuck-pointing project replaced all of the old mortar with new. L.A., along with the music building and Mueller Lab, received new windows. Each window was custom-made because every window is a different size. WJMU, the university radio station, also received a new interior.

Some traditions and rules have also been discarded in favor of newer standards. James Millikin initially refused to allow fraternities and sororities to exist on campus, but the Greek system is alive and well.

Another tradition that has disappeared is the infamous "Flower Shower." The early students thought so much of university President Albert Taylor that once a year they made him stand directly below the stage in what is now Albert Taylor Hall, while they all filed past and threw flowers at his feet. It is hard to imagine like that happening now.

The rules governing residence hall life were much more stringent. The following are some of the guidelines enforced in Aston Hall in the 1950's:

a. All students must be in the hall by 7:30 p.m.
b. All students going out for the evening must have permission from the Dean and have the Chaperone or escort approved. Students must also register time of departure, destination and time they return.
c. Soft slippers are to be worn after 7:30 p.m.
d. Study hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon; from 1:30 to 4:30 and from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.
e. Bathtubs are not to be used during study hours.
f. Students must turn the lights out on leaving their rooms. All lights must be out at 10:30 p.m.

And you think things are tough now!

SOME THINGS NEVER CHANGE

Despite the constant changing and adapting throughout the campus, the Millikin community clings steadfastly to traditions. The Millikin Dames hosted their 51st annual Christmas Cookie Party in December of 1985. Greek Week and Homecoming remain constant whirlwinds of activities and popular activities with both faculty and students.

The Singing Blue, Marching Blue and Jazz Band, the most visible musical ensembles, consistently perform to exceedingly high standards of quality and provide upbeat entertainment.

Career Development and Placement, one of the newer offices at Millikin, is continuing in its never-ending quest to find the proper job or graduate school for every student. The caring and sharing by the students and faculty are traditions that will never die.

A UNIQUE EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE

Due to the small and intimate atmosphere of this private university, students are able, even encouraged to seek out all possible aspects of the broad range of activities and experiences offered at Millikin. Among the most noticable of these are the personal interactions between students and faculty. The small number of students allows more one-on-one contacts with instructors in a formal classroom setting, in halls after class, during professor's office hours of later in the afternoon at the Lock Stock and Barrel.

Millikin also has the academic Merit Scholars, Presidential Scholars, and James Millikin Scholars programs for students with accelerated studies. Three members of the 1985 football squad were rewarded for excellence off the gridiron. Tom Kreller and Cary Bottorff were named as first-team Academic All-Americans, and Dan Kampwerth was named to the second team. Millikin consistently places student-athletes on academic squads and strives for excellence both on and off the field of play.

STUDENT SPIRIT

Enthusiastic students have been a mainstay at Millikin since the doors first opened on September 15, 1903. Students braved the rain and freezing temperature to travel to Augustana and watch the Big Blue vie for an undefeated season. Even though Millikin came out on the low end of the scoreboard, the spirit of the fans never failed.

The members of the university choir braved the long and monotonous bus rides with a unique attitude as they traveled across the North Central United States during their annual tour. This attitude was graphically displayed as they took the gymnasium floor for a quick game of basketball in tuxedos and long dresses.

It is the spirit and enthusiasm of the students, whether they be in or out of class, that has propelled Millikin University to greatness.

THE ATHLETIC TRADITION

The volleyball team was invited to play in the NCAA Division III National tournament at the close of the 1985 season. The invitation marked the Big Blue netters second appearance in the national tournament in the last three years. The 1984-85 women's basketball team finished third in the NCAA tournament last winter, and the 1985 golf team also battled to a third place finish in the national tournament in the spring of 1985.

These three teams are just a sampling of the winning athletic tradition that Millikin enjoys. Year in and year out the Big Blue student athletes are setting new standards for most victories and bringing home the coveted College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championship trophy. The success and spirit displayed on the athletic field are just another indication of Millikin's overall dedication to excellence and being the best that the Big Blue can possibly be.

WHERE EVERYBODY KNOWS YOUR NAME

Millikin has been and will always be an exceptional university based on personal relationships. It is the springboard to the future, a place of dreams, visions and individual spirit. It reflects not only a high level of academic quality, but also personal satisfaction. The people, the students and the faculty, are the most important ingredient in Millikin's endless search for excellence and the hope for the future of all Americans.

A four-year education at Millikin is a unique experience, but it not for everyone. Only the most dedicated and sincere young people can face the challenge head on. This relentless dedication to quality has produced outstanding men and women who tackle the world without fear. However, without the personal contact and caring that was given while still at MU, they could not have met the future challenges with such self-confidence and self-reliance.

The caring and the sharing are the keys. Millikin is truly an institution where everybody knows your name, and will remember it for years to come.

For the past three years Millikin students have participated in a Soccer Club. This season, against junior colleges, and four-year college JV teams, they finished with a 4-7-1 record. MEN'S BASKETBALL

A roller coaster ride: that's what the Big Blue men's basketball season has been like. Right now, MU is on the downhill side of a steep coaster dropoff, as they have lost four of their last five contests, and according to Coach Joe Ramsey, the reason is because the team currently lacks intensity.

"Going into the (CCIW) conference season, we were somewhat optimistic at the way the kids were playing. For some reason, we've lost it (the pre-conference season intensity)."

The Big Blue's record currently stands at 5-10 (after the 71-69 loss to Elmhurst on Feb. 21), and with the teeth of conference play approaching, Millikin will have to put every facet of their game together in order to finish the conference season in a winning fashion.

"The worst thing the kids could do now would be to expect to lose," said Ramsey.

Millikin has shown that they have the ability to play with anyone of their schedule, as their worst loss was only a 19 point setback at the hands of an NCAA Division I school, Eastern Illinois.

The Big Blue started the 85-86 campaign slowly, as they dropped their first three contests to MacMurray, Washington University, and Missouri-St. Louis before bouncing back to defeat Wabash and Trinity. Millikin then traveled to EIU, and then returned home for two contests just before break. They picked up a 66-52 win over Illinois College, but lost the final game before the break to DePaul, 71-65. At that point, Ramsey felt his team was playing the type of basketball that would help Millikin to be competitive in conference play, but after they captured second place in the Whittier (California) Classic, the Big Blue had only won one conference game out of five.

SWIMMING AND DIVING

WRESTLING

DECATUR, ILL. — An average fan thinks of a heavyweight wrestler as an overweight and immobile athlete that loves the bear hug. However, Millikin University sophomore heavyweight Kip Crandall of Tremont doesn't come close to the stereotype as evidenced by his 10-1 record and three tournament titles this season.

"I haven't seen a heavyweight that is the technician Kip is," said Big Blue head coach Mike Poe. "He has enough moves at his disposal to beat a heavier opponent with his mobility and a smaller one with his strength."

Crandall is 6-foot-2 and 235 pounds, approximately 20 pounds heavier than his freshman year when he recorded a 21-4 record, led the team with 10 pins and won the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin heavyweight title.

He won the CCIW meet last season on a knee that required post-season surgery and forced him to miss the NCAA Division III championships. The wrestler he beat for the CCIW title went on to place fifth in the national meet.

Crandall and his teammates face a major challenge Saturday, meeting four CCIW teams in a meet at Augustana. The Big Blue took a 1-1 record into a Wednesday double dual against MacMurray and Washington University in St. Louis. That meet began a busy three-week stretch that is capped by the CCIW championships Feb. 15.

One of Crandall's biggest matches of the year will occur this weekend when he meets Augustana heavyweight Lynn Thomsen, who, like Crandall, is a former IHSA 185-pound state champion. The 6-2, 240-pound Thomsen is participating in his first wrestling season and has a 10-0-1 record.

"Kip has met many types of heavyweights, but hasn't run into big and strong wrestlers with good talent, and that type is Thomsen," said Poe. "Kip and Thomsen are definitely the top two heavyweights in the CCIW and Kip would rather be rated No. 1."

Crandall's tournament titles have come at the Ohio Northern Invitational, where he defeated 1984 NCAA Division III All-American Mike Baker of the host school, the MacMurray Invitational and the North Central Invitational. His lone loss was a season-opening 12-4 decision to two-time NCAA Division II two-time All-American Ernie Badger of Southern Illinois-Edwardsville.

"Since losing to Badger nobody has done a thing against Kip including Baker at Ohio Northern," Poe said. "Following the Badger match Kip has allowed just 10 points and five of those are escapes he gave up. We're talking about a good wrestler in Kip." Poe contends Crandall has matured on the wrestling mat this season.

"Kip has learned to utilize an opponent's disadvantages whether it be strength or mobility, and he has been extremely coachable in learning things," Poe said. "The quality that has helped Kip the most is this great lower back strength which allows him to work the single leg takedown on bigger opponents. Once he gets that leg he's got it for good, and you don't see many heavyweights get single leg takedowns.

MEN'S TRACK

Chad Bolin performs the triple jump.

Millikin's men's track team was the surprise of the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin track meet as Coach Don Luy's team won more individual titles than any team to finish a strong fourth.

Millikin was fourth in the 1985 meet, but lost four All-Americans and 75 percent of its points off that squad. This season's young squad came closer to the team title than most observers expected.

Winning their events were Curt Stiner, 800-meter run; Scot Colver, 3000 steeplechase; Chad Bolin, triple jump; Gregg DeVries, javelin; and Jeff Query, 100-meter dash.

Stiner, an All-American last season, was undefeated in the 800 this year and was voted the team's most valuable performer and its most valuable runner. Bolin, who was second in the javelin and seventh in the triple jump at the CCIW meet, was named most valuable performer in field events.

Bolin set a school triple jump record during the season and Colver set the steeplechase mark. Query was an early qualifier for the NCAA Division III national meet.

In addition to the strong CCIW showing, Millikin won the Principia Invitational and was third at the 11-team Ecumenical Invitational.

Pitcher Paul Stephens and shortstop Don Stephens led the Millikin baseball team into the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin playoffs but had to share the spotlight with several teammates during a successful season.

Don Stephens was named the most valuable player for the second successive year after batting .300 and leading the team with 12 stolen bases. Paul Stephens, named most valuable pitcher, was 3-5 overall with a 3.21 earned run average and a team high 44 strike outs, and was 3-1 with a 2.91 ERA in the conference. Don Stephens hit .488 in the league and joined Paul on the All-CCIW South Division team.

Jack Klawitter was named rookie of the year and Cliff McClure most improved. Pitcher Marc Daniels, who was 5-3, and third baseman Erin Shanahan who hit .299, were elected 1987 co-captains.

Jim Duckworth pitched a no-hitter against South Division champion Illinois Wesleyan, the Big Blue's first no-hitter since Roger Tomlin did it twice in 1969.

Millikin had a 13-24 record overall, but was 7-4 in the CCIW and finished second in the South Division, making the league playoffs for the first time since the league went to a two-division format last season.

It was a record-setting year for the Millikin softball team which set a school victory record in posting a 25-13 mark. The women were under consideration for an NCAA Division III national tournament berth entering the final week of the season.

Coach Bryce Boston's squad broke 28 team and individual records. Second baseman Nancy Robinson set three records and tied two while earning the best bat award with a .365 batting average.

Shortstop Teri Ashley was voted most valuable player, catcher Erin Whitley was named best fielder and Dee Shively led the pitchers with a record 0.94 earned run average. Whitley and Robinson tied the record with 20 runs batted in.

Setting the team victory record was pitcher Mindy Underwood, who had a 12-4 record. Shively pitched the first no-hitter in Millikin history, a 12-0 victory over Elmhurst the last day of the season, and had a record nine shutouts.

Of the Big Blue's 13 losses, nine were by a single run. Three losses came at the hands of nationally ranked teams.

Millikin's men's tennis team achieved its pre-season goals of an improved finish in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin and a winning dual match record, finishing fourth in the CCIW and posting a 7-6 record.

All six singles players advanced to the semifinals of the league meet to help the Big Blue move up a notch in league standings.

Doug Kinas and Brian Peoples were co-winners of the most valuable player award. Kinas, a three-time MVP, had an 11-4 record at No. 4 singles and Peoples was 11-3 at No. 6.

Eric Smith was named most improved. He teamed with Peoples for a 9-4 record at No. 3 doubles and was 8-5 at No. 5 singles.

Other top singles records were 7-7 marks posted by Jeff Johnston at No. 2 and John Bratten at No. 3. Kinas and Sean Kellerher were 6-6 at No. 2 doubles.

Millikin's golf team bounced back from a disastrous opening round to post one of the best 18-hole scores of the tournament and earn a 10th place finish in the NCAA Division III men's national tournament.

The Big Blue recorded a 299 total on the final day of the 72-hole tournament to finish with a 1,244 stoke total for the four-day affair held in Wilkes Barre, Pa. California State-Stanislaus won its third straight title with a 1,208 total.

Millikin, third in the 1985 national tournament, had a 323 total the first day to drop out of contention for the team title, but rebounded the final day with the second best four-man total in the 17-team field.

Bob Jan, third individually a year ago, finished in a tie for 18th place with a 305 total.

Also competing for the Big Blue were Mark Hawk, Gary Yuenger, Mike Voeller, and Frank Bruno.

Earlier the Big Blue won their fourth successive College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championship after posting a 6-0 record in dual matches and winning two tournament titles.

A LONG TIME FRIEND

The Millikin Towers and Albert Taylor Hall were chosen as the site of the memorial service because of Mr. Gill's longtime involvement with Millikin University. In the history of the institution, Hank is the only one who has ever given more than 50 years of loyal service. He was as much a part of Millikin's history as The Towers and Albert Taylor Hall. As a boy of eleven years of age, he watched the funeral cortege of James Millikin file into Albert Taylor Hall for Mr. Millikin's memorial service and remembered vividly the occasion.
